- Use of personal electronic devices (laptops, tablets, smartphones, etc.) is permitted in the classroom at times specified by the teacher. Such situations require devices to be placed on the surface of the desk at all times.
- While your teacher may assist you as time permits, you are ultimately responsible for your own device, including technical support, and charging.
- If technology is needed, you may charge your device at outlets at the back of the room. Chargers will not be provided for you.
- Photography, video, and audio recording are generally not permitted unless explicitly instructed by the teacher.
- The use of electronic devices is never permitted during in-class quizzes or tests. Use of a device during these times will be considered academic dishonesty.
